Welcome to Yacht Destinations

We are here to help members of yacht clubs to find other clubs to visit while cruising or traveling. Many clubs will extend reciprocal privileges to members of other yacht clubs. This means that you may be able to tie your boat up to your reciprocal club's dock and/or use their facilities while on a visit. Reciprocal privileges offered by a club usually only extend to specific other clubs.

This site was designed to help you find out what is available to you as a member of your yacht club while you are visiting another club. You need to "Create an Account" here and while doing so indicate what yacht club you belong to. Then, when you "Sign In", the database of clubs will filter down to those that are your reciprocal clubs.

The clubs available can be found graphically under the "Destinations Tab" or in tabular form under the "Details" tab. By clicking on the icons on these pages you will find a wealth of information about a club's facilities, terms of use, and the surrounding area.

May you be blessed with a gentle passage and don't forget to bring your burgee!

USE OF THE RECIPROCAL MOORAGE PROGRAM

This guide has been compiled to assist you in the use and enjoyment of our reciprocal moorage agreements with other yacht clubs. Please take a few minutes to look through this edition and note any changes to club facilities since your last visit.. This book is for you; so please don't hesitate to advise us of any ideas you have that might add to its usefulness. The clubs are grouped by areas for easy use. There are also sections for Canadian Emergency information, Flag Etiquette, and your own notes. If you are unfamiliar with the reciprocal program. The basics are covered below.

Like anything else that's new and unfamiliar, you may be hesitant to try it. (Remember the first time you talked on the VHF radio?) It is no different from pulling up to any marina and asking if moorage is available for the night. When you first arrive at the host club facility, contact the Harbor Master and ask if there is reciprocal moorage available. He may ask to see your yacht club card (good reason to keep it on the boat). And if space is available, he will direct you to the proper pier. If reciprocal moorage space is all taken, ask if there is other space available. This may well be the case, if the reciprocal moorage is part of a large marina (as is our case). If the moorage is part of a yacht club, he might direct you to a nearby marina. This process can be made even easier yet if you call on VHF radio first. Many facilities monitor channel 16, or another channel as may be noted in this book, and all of the necessary information can be passed without having to tie up twice.

As can be seen by reviewing the guide, we have moorage agreements with yacht clubs, which have their own facilities, as well as those, which rent space in marinas. Refer to the guide to help you locate the facility, and be aware of check-in requirements and any specific limitations. Where known, latitude and longitude are provided to facilitate finding the moorage.

In general flying the WSCYC burgee with common sense, and proper etiquette are all that's needed when using reciprocals. Some clubs have special rules and they are noted if the information was in the package sent to WSCYC, please abide by our hosts' wishes. One more important thing, all clubs ask that you keep your through hull valve closed and use your holding tank and the onshore heads, but that should be a given anyway. Go ahead, try the reciprocal program and have fun.

In using this booklet, please make notes regarding things (both good and bad) that would be useful to others when visiting the reciprocal facilities.

If you are visiting a facility that does not have a latitude and longitude listed, please make a note of the coordinates from your GPS or Loran and pass the information on for next year's book. Other information which is always appreciated, is that concerning the location and distance to the nearest food market and laundry, the names and specialties of any good restaurants, "neat" shops, points of interest, etc. Feedback is a valuable part of this book because many of the clubs don't tell us of changes, they just send a new reciprocal card, and some clubs don't give us anything new because they have given us reciprocal rights on a permanent basis.

Jerry and Cathy Komish

FLAG ETIQUETTE ORDER OF PRECEDENCE

Flags are flown in the following order of precedence: The Ensign; Courtesy Flag; Club Burgee or Flag Officer's Flag; Owner's House Flag; Other Flags.

The Ensign:

This is the national flag, and denotes the nationality of the owner of the vessel, and should be flown between the hours of 8:00 AM and sunset. However, the Ensign may be flown day and night while at sea and should be flown at any hour when entering or leaving port.

Courtesy Flag:

The ensign of a foreign country being visited should be raised upon entering the waters of that country and should be lowered at sunset and raised at 8:00 AM daily for the duration of the visit. Upon leaving the foreign waters, the courtesy flag should be flown until the yacht clears customs at the next country visited or its homeport. Once customs has been cleared, the courtesy flag should immediately be lowered.

Club Burgee:

The burgee should be flown between the hours of 8:00 AM and sunset. If the owners a member of more than one club, the burgee of the host club or the burgee of the club under which the owner wishes to be recognized should be flown. Only one burgee should be flown at a time.

Flag Officer's Flag:

When the owner is a Flag Officer of the Club, his special Flag Officer's flag replaces the burgee and is flown from 8:00 AM until sunset.

Owner's House Flag:

Private flag of the owner flown from 8:00 AM until sunset customarily only when the owner is actually aboard.

Other Flags:

U.S. Power Squadron, Blue Gavel, etc., have low priority, and could replace the seldom-used owner's flag, being flown between 8:00 AM and sunset. Care should be taken that they are never hoisted in a position superior to the ensign, club burgee, flag officer's flag, courtesy flag or owner's flag.

Where to fly flags

The Ensign:

Gaff rigged sloops, cutters and schooners. The ensign is flown from the main peak or taffrail Staff while under sail and the taffrail staff while under power or at anchor. Bermudian rigged sloops, cutters and schooners - Ensign flown from the taffrail staff or two thirds up the leach of the mainsail while sailing and at the taffrail staff while under power or at anchor. Yawls, ketches and yachts with more than two masts where the after mast is shorter than the main mast the ensign may be flown from the staff at the mizzen head. Power yachts with an after mast fitted masthead, these flags should be flown from the starboard spreader of the main mast on single masted yachts, yawls and ketches. On schooners, they should be flown from the mast truck.

NOTE: When a flag officer's flag is flown no burgee is flown as it replaces the burgee. Owner's

House Flag:

In single masted yachts the house flag should be flown at the starboard spreader or if this halyard is occupied, the port spreader. In schooners or yachts with more than two masts, the house flag should be flown from the fore masthead. In yawls and ketches it may be flown at the mizzen masthead if free, otherwise, the main mast spreader.

Courtesy Flag:

(In foreign waters) on single masted vessels, it should be flown at the starboard spreader, where it has preference. On yachts with more than one mast, it may be flown at the starboard spreader of the main mast or at the fore masthead on schooners.

Saluting:

It is customary for yachts, as well as commercial vessels, to SALUTE ANY WARSHIP, U.S. OR FOREIGN. FLAG OFFICER'S, WHEN FLYING THEIR FLAG, SHOULD ALSO RECEIVE A SALUTE.

Procedure for Saluting:

When cruising In Company the Senior Officer only salutes for all the yachts in the squadron. Saluting is done by "dipping" the ensign only, i.e., lowering it slowly to a position about one-third from the lower end of the hoist. The saluted vessel should acknowledge the salute in kind. The dip should be held until the saluted vessel-hoists her ensign.

Half masting:

It is customary on days of national mourning to fly the ensign at half-mast during the period of mourning, i.e., the time the information is received until the funeral has been held. In case of the death of a yacht owner the ensign and burgee should be half-masted at the time the information is received and at sunset hauled down for the last time. Should news be received during the hours of darkness, the ensign and burgee should be half-masted the next day and finally hauled down at sunset of that day. If ashes are to be scattered at sea the ensign and burgee should be half-masted during the ceremony.

Procedure for Half Masting:

The ensign and burgee should never be hoisted direct to, or lowered direct from, the half-mast position. When being hoisted they should be hauled close up, then after a pause lowered to the dip position. Similarly, when being lowered they should first be hauled close up, then after a pause lowered. The Half-mast position should be about three breadths of the flag from the close up position.

Or Dial 911

By Email

By other methods

Currently the U.S. Coast Guard email system is not set up to accept or respond to emergency SAR messages. If you are in distress or need to report an emergency, do NOT send it via email, contact the Coast Guard via telephone or radio.

The Global Maritime Distress and Safety System (GMDSS) provides a number of additional means for contacting or alerting SAR authorities. These include INMARSAT, SARTS (EPIRBs, ELTs, and PLBs), MF-DSC, HF-DSC, etc.

In addition, for vessels or persons in distress there are nationally and internationally accepted/prescribed visual and sound distress signals (flares, horns, mirrors, flashing lights, flags, etc.).

House

Hours: Wednesday - Sunday, 8:30 - 5:00pm Closed Monday, Tuesday

Comments: Our architecturally distinct, two-story New England style clubhouse topped by the traditional "widows walk" is a landmark when viewed from afloat or ashore. Within the Clubhouse are a spacious dining/banquet room with dance floor, Wardroom Bar and lounge area with an indoor fire pit, offices, conference room and restrooms with showers. Adjacent to the main Clubhouse is an auxiliary Quarterdeck building with a large meeting/seminar/conference room and other rooms used for race management and related functions. Additional restrooms and showers are also contained in the Quarterdeck. Although ABYC does not maintain a full-time, full-service dining room, dinners are prepared and served in our professional restaurant-style kitchen on the second deck of the main clubhouse. Cooking and serving are done by volunteers or caterers. The Club Galley located adjacent to our outdoor patio serves breakfast and lunches on the weekends at very moderate prices.
